Andre,

I am happy to provide this information to you in an effort to help you with your situation.
I have attached a screenshot of the geo location where the certified letter was first attempted and a notice was left because there was no authorized recipient available to sign for the certified.

It is USPS's policy that identification must always be provided when a customer is receiving mail at the window, whether it is regular mail or certified mail or signature confirmation or registered mail. Our employees go through extensive training to properly handle the mail and all our employees are well aware of this policy therefore, I am confident that identification was presented when this item was picked up and signed for.

Please let me know if I can be of any further assistance.

Thank you,

Pamela Sullivan
